Section 2. Orders, prices, and payment terms

2.1. Orders

Unless otherwise agreed, the terms of the Supplier’s documentation shall supersede the terms in any Customer purchase order or other similar document, and no non-Supplier terms shall apply to the Order.

If the Supplier and the Customer (“Parties”) agree that other terms shall apply to the Order, such terms (“Special Conditions”) shall be identified as such in the Order and thereby incorporated herein and shall prevail and take precedence over any conflicting terms and conditions hereof.

The GTC, together with the Order (and any other documents referred to therein, including the Cloud Services Terms and Conditions, the Professional Services Terms and Conditions, the General Terms and Conditions of Maintenance and the On Premise Software Terms (as applicable)), the Order Confirmation and any applicable Special Conditions (including a data processing agreement between the Parties, if applicable) are referred to as the “Agreement.”

The Parties agree that an Order from the Customer is only contractually accepted by the Supplier if the Supplier sends the Customer a written Order Confirmation. The Supplier may unilaterally refuse to accept an Order for any reason and without any liability.

Orders shall be non-cancellable, and any sums paid non-refundable. The term of each Order (if applicable) shall be set out therein.

No changes to Orders may be made by the Customer after the Order Confirmation, unless the Parties mutually agree to such changes and any associated difference in price, delivery timing, and any other terms.

The Customer warrants that the person or entity ordering the Products and/or the Services under the Order is duly authorized to enter into the present Agreement on the Customer's behalf and the Supplier warrants that it has the full capacity and authority and all necessary permissions, licenses and consents necessary to enter into, and perform its obligations under this Agreement.

2.2. Prices

Prices quoted by the Supplier shall be valid for thirty (30) calendar days from the date of quotation, unless otherwise stated. Quotations for Services are made on the basis that such Services will be performed in the country or countries specified in the Order ("Territory").

Unless otherwise provided in the Agreement the Customer shall pay the fees for the Products and/or Services stated in the Order at the Supplier's prices in force at the date of acceptance by the Supplier of the Order. The prices for Hardware Products shall be Ex-Works (Incoterms 2020) at the Supplier's premises and shall be inclusive of the Supplier's standard packaging.

Unless otherwise provided in the Agreement, prices shall not include transport, installation, set up or maintenance.

All prices quoted and fees are exclusive of applicable value added tax ("VAT"), and any other taxes, duties and charges levied or assessed in the United States or elsewhere in connection with the sale, purchase, and export or import of the Products and/or Services. The Customer shall be responsible for payment of all such taxes, duties, customs broker fees, and related governmental charges.

Unless otherwise agreed or stated elsewhere in this Agreement, the Supplier reserves the right to increase the price of the Products, Services and minimum order quantities or applicable transport and freight charges of Products, at its sole discretion and without notice.

2.3. Payment terms

Unless otherwise agreed or stated elsewhere in this Agreement, invoices for Hardware Products shall be issued by the Supplier upon Order Confirmation and shall be due and payable on receipt.

Unless otherwise agreed or stated elsewhere in this Agreement, all other invoices are due and payable within thirty (30) calendar days of the invoice date, without discount for early payment.

Payment shall be made by bank transfer, cheque, credit card or debit card to the Supplier's account stated in the applicable invoice, and the corresponding invoice number must be indicated with each payment.

Payment shall be deemed as received on the date on which the funds are fully credited to the Supplier's account.

Payment shall be made in the currency specified in the invoice without withholding, deduction or set-off, whether arising from incomplete or defective performance or otherwise.

If the Customer disputes any invoice, the Customer shall notify the Supplier in writing within ten (10)

Business Days (being days other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday in the country of the Customer's registered office) of the date of such invoice; otherwise, the Customer shall be deemed to have irrevocably waived its right to dispute such invoice.

2.4. Due date payment default

If the Customer remains in default of any payment obligation for more than thirty (30) calendar days after the date of the invoice, without limiting the Supplier's remedies hereunder, including termination rights described in Section 11 herein, the following terms shall apply:

- a) all sums due from the Customer to the Supplier under the Agreement shall become payable immediately;
- b) the Supplier shall be entitled to suspend further deliveries of any Products and/or Services to the Customer, or demand advance payment (in full) for any new orders, until payment of all outstanding amounts has been made in full;
- c) the Supplier shall be entitled to suspend access to any Software that is required for the Customer to use the Products and/or Services, and to any Services, and/or remotely stop the functionality of the associated Products;
- d) the Customer shall pay the Supplier interest on all sums outstanding from the due date until payment, whether before or after judgment. Interest under this paragraph 2.4 (d) will accrue each day at an annual rate of four percent (4%) above the base rate published in The Wall Street Journal as of the first Business Day (as defined below) of the month the amount is initially due, compounded monthly, until payment is made in full (whether before or after judgment), or the greatest amount allowed by law, whichever is less;

- e) the Customer shall promptly reimburse the Supplier for any fees and costs incurred in collecting the payment, repossessing the Products, and enforcement of the Agreement; and
- f) the Supplier reserves the right to set off any amount due by it to the Customer, however arising, against any sums due by the Supplier to the Customer for whatever reason.

Section 3. Delivery

3.1 Unless otherwise agreed or stated elsewhere in this Agreement, the Supplier shall deliver the Hardware Products no less than twelve (12) weeks after the Order Confirmation provided that the Customer is not in default of any of its obligations hereunder. Delivery dates are estimates only such that late delivery thereafter shall not constitute a breach by the Supplier. Where applicable, the Supplier shall use carriers of its choice. The carrier and associated insurance costs shall either be paid for in advance, or promptly reimbursed, by the Customer, at the Supplier's sole discretion.

3.2 The Customer or its authorized representative shall, on delivery, sign the Supplier's delivery note ("Delivery Note") confirming receipt of the Hardware Products.

3.3 The risk of loss, damage or destruction of the Hardware Products shall pass to the Customer on delivery.

3.4 Unless otherwise provided in the Agreement, the Supplier shall deliver the Hardware

Products Ex-Works (Incoterms 2020) at the Supplier's premises stated in the Order.

3.5 Where applicable, the Customer shall, within forty-eight (48) hours of delivery of the Hardware Products, notify the Supplier of any damage to the Hardware Products that has occurred during transit and shall, if requested by the Supplier, assist the Supplier with any claim for damages from any carrier or insurer for loss or damage to the Hardware Products.

3.6 The Customer shall, within five (5) Business Days of delivery of the Hardware Products, notify the Supplier of any claim for non-delivery of Products, or for any apparent defects, or apparent non-conformity of the Hardware Products with the Order, excluding any loss or damage occurring during transit which is subject to the preceding paragraph.

3.7 If at the Customer's request the Supplier agrees to postpone delivery of the Hardware Products, the Supplier may charge the Customer all reasonable additional costs of handling and storage of the Hardware Products, provided that the Customer shall remain liable to pay for the Hardware Products (and any applicable VAT, and any other taxes, duties and charges) in accordance with the payment terms of the Agreement.

Section 4. Transfer of ownership

4.1 Title to the Hardware Products shall pass to the Customer upon receipt by the Supplier of full payment of the Products.

4.2 Until title to the Hardware Products is transferred to the Customer, the Customer shall:

- a) keep such Hardware Products in the same condition as when delivered by the Supplier and clearly identifiable as the property of the Supplier;

- b) ensure that such Hardware Products are not and will not be subject to seizure, theft or other similar measures deriving from the Customers' activity, or any third party's activity;
- c) keep such Hardware Products insured against the risks of loss, damage or destruction to the replacement value of Hardware Products with a reputable insurance company and provide the Supplier on request with evidence of the Customer's compliance with this clause; and
- d) not under any circumstances sell, lend, rent, encumber, pledge, lease, transfer or otherwise dispose of such Hardware Products. The Customer must immediately notify the Supplier in the event of any liens, seizures, or other dispositions or encumbrances by third parties (provided that such notification shall not excuse the Customer for any breach of this Agreement and liability arising therefrom).

4.3 In application of the previous paragraph, the Supplier shall be entitled to repossess such Hardware Products at the Customer's exclusive expense (including legal fees and costs), and consequently the Customer hereby grants the Supplier, or any entity which represents or is appointed by the Supplier, the irrevocable right to enter the premises where such Hardware Products are stored for the purpose of such repossession.

Section 5. Supply of Services

Maintenance and Support Services

5.1 If the Order expressly states that maintenance and support services will be provided by the Supplier, the terms of such maintenance and support services shall be as specified in the Order and this Agreement and as set out in the Supplier's General Terms and Conditions of Maintenance ("GTCM"), which in the case of any conflicting provisions shall take precedence over these GTC in relation to such maintenance services.

Installation Services

5.2 Where Services relating to the supply of the Products, such as installation, repair, upgrading or training ("Installation Services"), are expressly included in the Order, the Supplier shall:

- a) use reasonable efforts to meet any performance dates specified in the Special Conditions (or statement of work), but any such dates shall be estimates only such that late delivery thereafter shall not constitute a breach by the Supplier;
- b) use reasonable care and skill in the provision of the Installation Services; and
- c) use reasonable efforts to provide the Installation Services in accordance with the agreed description or specifications for the Installation Services as set out in the Order (hereinafter the "Specifications") in all material respects.

- f) keep and maintain all Supplier materials that the Supplier reasonably requests to leave at the Location in safe custody at the Customer's risk and maintain such Supplier materials in good condition until returned to the Supplier.

5.4 The Supplier shall be entitled to invoice the Customer for the reasonable costs of any additional site survey deemed necessary by the Supplier as a result of the Customer's non-compliance with Section 5.3, the Specifications or other prerequisites reasonably requested by the Supplier.

5.5 All building and construction work (and materials) required shall, unless indicated as forming part of the Installation Services in the Specifications, be provided by Customer, including (without limitation) cable laying, plastering, grouting, filling, flooring and carpet changes. The Customer shall provide the Supplier with all required power and communications resources (including cables, telephone and internet access) on or before the planned date for installation. All materials to be provided by the Customer pursuant to the Agreement shall be of the highest quality and furnished, installed, and finished by (or on behalf of) the Customer in strict conformity with the Specifications and applicable laws.

5.6 The Customer shall be responsible for determining the Location and its suitability for installation of the Products. The Customer shall undertake any required structural engineering necessary to certify the structural integrity of the Location to bear the weight of the Products, in location and during access, and any equipment necessary to undertake such access and installation. The Customer shall ensure minimum clear access as shown on the Specifications and any drawings. Time is of the essence for all actions of the Customer (including the Specifications, building and construction work, site preparation and cooperation) deemed to be necessary or desirable by the Supplier for the Installation Services occurring thereafter.

5.7 Any installation work to be provided as part of the Installation Services shall be performed by the Supplier on Business Days and during Business Hours (being 9am to 5pm on a Business Day). If at the Customer's written request, the Supplier agrees to perform the work outside Business Hours, then an additional charge for such work shall be paid by the Customer as notified by the Supplier. Where installation is subject to delay not solely attributable to the Supplier ("Customer Delay") or the Supplier is prevented from working full time or on consecutive Business Days as the result of a Customer Delay, the cost of the Supplier redeploying its engineers, or withdrawing and returning to the Location, or of retaining engineers at the Location without work, and all delay, waiting or wasted time and any resulting damage to the Products shall be paid for by the Customer. If the Supplier's engineers or technicians are required to leave the Location due to a Customer Delay, the Customer shall be responsible for the engineers' or technicians' waiting and wasted time and all damage to the Products.

5.8 Completion of the installation of any Product shall not be conditional on the Product being put into use. The Customer shall, following installation, sign a field service report furnished by the Supplier signifying completion of the Installation Services.

5.9 The Installation Services do not include the 'making good' of any Location required as a result of the Installation Services.

5.10 The Supplier shall have no liability for and Customer shall indemnify and hold the Supplier harmless against all and any liability or claims (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) arising from any act or omission of the Customer or any of its end customers or end users which prevents or hinders the Supplier's performance of any work within the scope of the Installation Services which is reasonably required for the safe or efficient operation of the Products or the performance of the Installation Services.

Section 6. Discontinuation of Production

6.1 The Supplier may suspend or discontinue production or provision of any of the Products at any time for any reason, including, without limitation, the unavailability of components. In such cases, the Supplier shall make reasonable efforts to give the Customer not less than six (6) months' notice of suspension or discontinuance, or otherwise shall give such notice as soon as is reasonably possible if the suspension or discontinuance is due to Force Majeure (as defined below).

6.2 The Supplier shall make reasonable efforts to:

- a) inform the Customer of the date after which orders for the Products affected shall no longer be accepted; and
- b) complete the manufacture of affected Products ordered by the Customer prior to such date.

Section 7. Warranties

7.1 Unless otherwise agreed, for a period of thirty (30) days from either the date of delivery of the Hardware Products to the Customer or from the agreed installation date where Installation Services are provided (the “Hardware Product Warranty Period”) the Supplier will at its discretion, either repair (including parts and labor) or replace any Hardware Products that are defective as a result of defects in design, workmanship or materials, or credit or reimburse the Customer with the price thereof, provided that the Customer has given the Supplier written notice of the defect within the Hardware Product Warranty Period. Subject to Section 7.5, the Supplier shall pay all carrier and associated insurance costs incurred in returning repaired or replacement Hardware Products to the Customer’s delivery address set out in the Agreement.

7.2 Except as provided in this Agreement, the Supplier shall have no liability to the Customer in

7.3 The Supplier warrants that it will rectify any failure to provide Services with due care and skill provided that the Customer has given the Supplier notice of such failure within thirty (30) days of completion of the Services (“Service Warranty Period”).

7.4 The Customer shall, within the Hardware Product Warranty Period or the Service Warranty Period as applicable, give the Supplier prompt notice of any defect, error or failure, providing the Supplier with all information regarding such defect, error or failure which the Supplier may reasonably require and comply with all reasonable suggestions or instructions which the Supplier may offer with a view to the diagnosis and/or remedy of such defect or error.

7.5 If the Supplier establishes that a reported defect, error or failure is not covered by the warranties given under this Section 7 (Warranties), the Customer shall be liable for the costs of the Supplier's investigative and remedial work and the repair or replacement of the Products at the Supplier's then current prices, and for all associated carriage and insurance costs.

7.6 The Supplier shall not be liable for any failure of the Products or Services caused by the use thereof in conjunction with any other equipment or Software which has not been provided by the Supplier or caused by any use of the Products or Services other than for the purposes for which they were designed.

7.9 Unless expressly specified elsewhere in this Agreement, the remedies provided by this Section 7 shall be the Customer's sole and exclusive remedies in respect of any breach of warranty under this Agreement to the exclusion (to the extent permissible by law) of all other remedies, terms, conditions, guarantees and warranties, whether express or implied, statutory or otherwise.

7.9 Any warranty or requirement to repair or replace any Product (or rectify or re-perform any Services) under this Agreement, together with any right for the Customer to return any Products, shall not apply in cases arising from: 1) the Product being used in an abnormal or improper manner, including a material change in the use or usage of the Product, 2) vandalism, misuse, abuse, or accidental damage, 3) failure to care for and maintain the Product, including keeping it clean, free from any foreign objects, paper clips and similar items, and in proper,

8.1. "Intellectual Property Rights" shall include all rights in inventions, patents, utility models, design rights, trademarks, semi-conductor design rights and mask works, topography rights, service marks, rights in the nature of passing off and unfair competition, rights in designs, trade dress, business

The Customer is not authorized to use the name, logo, trademark, trade names, graphics, drawings and models, design, image or any other elements for which the rights are held by the Supplier in any of the Customer's advertisements, communications, publications or other elements, without the Supplier's prior written agreement thereto. The Customer has no right or license to reconstruct any portion of the Products or Services. Any implied license to use the Products or Services by Customer is limited to sole use of the Supplier-supplied Products or Services by only the Customer and its retail customers at the Customer's facility, and no reproduction, copying, manufacturing or making of derivations thereof is allowed by or implicitly licensed to the Customer or those acting with or on behalf of the Customer.

The Customer shall not remove, try to conceal, damage, cover or alter any trademark which belongs to the Supplier. - b) to the extent that such claim relates to aspects of the Products developed or manufactured to designs or specifications provided by the Customer, or which otherwise incorporate documents, materials, ideas, data or other information provided by the Customer;
- c) where such claim relates to the Products being used other than for the purpose for which they were designed or beyond the scope of this Agreement; or
- d) where such claim relates to a Software Product, if such Software Product is other than the latest version of the Software Product released by the Supplier.

If any of the Products or Services (or any of the deliverables provided under those Services, if applicable) become, or in the opinion of the Supplier, may become, the subject of a claim in respect of the infringement of the Intellectual Property Rights of a third party, the Supplier may, at its sole discretion:

The monetary indemnification and liability of the Supplier to the Customer shall be capped at and not exceed the price of the Products paid by the Customer related to the third-party claim. The terms of this subsection 8.2 constitute the entire liability that may be incurred by the Supplier and constitute the Customer's sole remedy for any actual or alleged infringement of Intellectual Property Rights.

Except as provided in this subsection, the Supplier shall not be liable in respect of any claim of infringement of any third-party Intellectual Property Rights.

Section 9. Software licenses and subscriptions

9.1 All third party Software will be licensed to the Customer in accordance with the terms and conditions of applicable licensing agreements enclosed with the Software provided by the third party, which in the case of any conflicting provisions shall take precedence over these GTC in relation to such third party Software.

12.2 This Section 12 (Confidentiality) shall not apply to any such information which either Party can show is public knowledge or was already known to it at the time of disclosure (without restriction as to disclosure or use and corroborated by written evidence) or subsequently becomes public knowledge other than by breach of the Agreement or subsequently comes lawfully into its possession from a third party who was not restricted from disclosing it.

12.3 On the termination or expiration of the Agreement, the Customer shall promptly return to the Supplier or destroy (and confirm such destruction in writing) upon the Supplier's request, all of the Supplier's confidential information in written or tangible form or on any other media.

12.4 The terms of this Section 12 (Confidentiality) shall survive the expiration or termination of the Agreement.

12.5 The Parties' obligations with respect to the non-use and non-disclosure of any confidential information that was disclosed under or in connection with the Agreement shall continue for five (5) years from the disclosure date, provided that the Parties' obligations with respect to non-disclosure and non-use of any trade secrets disclosed hereunder shall be of unlimited duration.

Section 13. Applicable law

13.1 This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to its principles of conflicts of law. If translations of this Agreement (including of the Order or the Order Confirmation) are made, then the English language versions thereof shall prevail.

Section 14. Assignment and subcontracting

14.1 The Customer shall not assign its rights or obligations under the Agreement without the prior written consent of the Supplier, which may be withheld for any reason.

14.2 The Supplier may assign the Agreement to any affiliate or purchaser of substantially all its assets related to the Products and may delegate or subcontract performance of any of its obligations under the Agreement without the Customer's permission.

14.3 The Customer may not delegate or subcontract the performance of its payment obligations under the Agreement without the prior written consent of the Supplier, which may be withheld by the Supplier for any reason, except that the Customer may delegate or subcontract its Specification preparation, building and/or construction work to qualified entities or individuals related to the Installation Services who have agreed to confidentiality obligations at least as stringent as those included herein.

Section 15. Notices

15.1 Any notice or other communication given to a Party under or in connection with the Agreement shall be in writing and shall be: (a) delivered by hand, or by Express U.S mail, courier or other next day delivery service to the address of the recipient Party stated in the Order Confirmation; or (b) sent by email to the email address of the recipient Party stated in the Order Confirmation; provided that within three (3) Business Days of such email communication a copy of the such notice is sent by pre-paid first-class post or other next Business Day delivery service to the address of the recipient Party stated in the Order Confirmation. The effective date of such notice shall be when hand-delivered, deposited via overnight mail or email sent, whichever occurs first.

16.1 Each Party shall observe all laws applicable in the Territory with regard to data protection, including but not limited to federal and state data protection laws and, where applicable, the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2016/679). If the Parties process personal data in connection with and for the purpose of executing the Agreement, each Party shall act as independent data controller in relation to such personal data, and shall take all necessary technical and organizational measures to ensure the security of such data (and to guard against unauthorized or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction or damage to such data). In this regard, the Parties shall comply and shall ensure that the Parties' personnel involved in data processing activities shall comply with all relevant legal obligations when processing personal data relating to any employee, worker, customer, client, supplier, agent or other data subject.

16.2 The Parties understand that, for the execution of the Agreement, processing of names, positions, departments, signatures, telephone numbers and email addresses may be required.

16.3 Each signatory representative of the Parties hereby declares that it has been informed of the processing by the other Party of its personal data necessary for concluding and executing the Agreement and fulfilling that Party's legal obligations and have been informed of their rights under and in accordance with data protection law.

Section 17. General stipulations

17.1. Compliance with law

In performing its obligations under the Agreement, each Party shall comply with all applicable laws in the Territory. Each Party shall notify the other on becoming aware of any changes in applicable laws material to the validity, enforcement, or performance of the Agreement.

The Customer represents and warrants that it and its owners: (a) are not and will not for the term of this Agreement be listed on the U.S. Excluded Parties List or the U.S. Department of Treasury's List of Specially Designated Nationals, or be subject to an embargo administered by the U.S. Department of Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control, the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of Industry and Security, or other applicable regulatory agencies around the world, or resell the Products to or enter into any relationship with those who are, or be subjected to any law, executive order, embargo, sanction or otherwise limited in its transaction with the Supplier; (b) are not and will not violate any law, regulation, policy or other limitation imposed by the United States government or other applicable regulatory agencies around the world, including but not being limited to the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practice Acts, and the UK Bribery Act of 2010; and (c) have not been subjected to investigation or sanction for bribery or money laundering.

Neither party shall export, directly or indirectly, any technical data acquired from the other Party under this Agreement (or any Products, including Software, incorporating any such data) in breach of any applicable laws or regulations (Export Control Laws), including United States export laws and regulations, to any country for which the government or any agency thereof at the time of export requires an export license or other governmental approval without first obtaining such license or approval.

Each Party undertakes to: (a) contractually to oblige any third party to whom it discloses or transfers any such data or Products to make an undertaking to it in similar terms to the one set out above; and (b) if requested, to provide the other Party with any reasonable assistance, at the reasonable cost of the other Party, to enable it to perform any activity required by any competent government or agency in any relevant jurisdiction for the purpose of compliance with any Export Control Laws.

17.2. Indemnity

Subject to Section 10, the Customer will indemnify, defend and hold harmless Supplier, its affiliates, and its respective officers, directors, employees, agents, successors and assigns, from and against all losses, damages, costs or liability of any kind (including legal fees), including any costs associated with claims made by a third party, arising from, in connection with or relating to any of the following: i) negligent acts or omissions or willful misconduct of its personnel; ii) breach of its obligations under the Agreement; or iii) any theft or other misappropriation of the Supplier's or its personnel's information, property or funds.

The Customer shall maintain all appropriate business and property insurance to cover any accidents and injuries occurring in or on the Customer's facility and property during the delivery, installation and use of the Products and Services, of at least USD 5,000,000 for each accident or occurrence. A certificate of insurance from a well-established and reputable insurer shall be provided by the Customer to the Supplier upon request.

17.3. Force majeure

Except for obligations to pay amounts when due (which are not excused), neither Party shall be held liable for any delay or breach of its contractual obligations resulting from unpredictable circumstances or circumstances beyond its reasonable control (“Force Majeure”). A Force Majeure event shall include, without limitation, total or partial strikes which hinder a Party's operating activities or those of its suppliers, subcontractors or carriers, epidemic or pandemic, war, national emergency, civil disturbance, fire, flood, explosion, natural disaster, unusually severe weather conditions, prohibitive legislation or regulations, judicial or administrative decrees, failure of power or utility supplies (including telecommunications), and interruption of transport, energy, raw material or spare part supplies. If a Force Majeure event arises, performance of the obligations by the Party affected by such event shall be suspended throughout the duration thereof. The affected Party shall promptly notify the other Party of the commencement and cessation of such Force Majeure event.

If a Force Majeure event lasts for more than two (2) months, the Supplier shall be entitled to immediately terminate the Agreement (or any part of it) by written notice without liability. If the Agreement is terminated for Force Majeure under this subsection, all Orders for Products and/or Services placed prior to the date of termination will be deemed to have been cancelled but the Customer shall pay the Supplier for all Products and Services already supplied, work-in-progress and the cost of materials reasonably ordered by the Supplier in pursuance of the Agreement.

17.4. No waiver

Subject to the final paragraph of Section 10, any failure or delay by either Party to exercise or enforce any right shall not affect its right to exercise or enforce that right against the other Party, nor shall any waiver of any breach of any provision be taken as a waiver of any subsequent breach or of the provision itself. To be effective, any waiver must be in writing, signed by an authorised representative of the waiving Party, and be delivered to the other Party in accordance with Section 15.

17.5. Entire agreement and variation

The Agreement embodies the entire agreement between the Parties regarding its subject matter to the exclusion of (and supersedes) any prior or contemporaneous understandings, agreements, representations, and communications, whether verbal or written. The Parties acknowledge that neither has placed any reliance on any prior communications other than those expressly incorporated in the Agreement. The Parties irrevocably and unconditionally waive any right they may have to rescind the Agreement and/or claim damages for any misrepresentation whether or not contained in the Agreement or breach of any warranty not contained in the Agreement unless such misrepresentation or warranty was made fraudulently.

The Customer also acknowledges that all particulars, descriptions, specifications and details of weight and dimension set out in catalogues, brochures, and similar documents are approximate only and intended for general guidance.

No variation or modification of the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall have effect unless it is agreed to in writing and signed by the Parties' authorised representatives.

The terms and conditions of the Agreement shall apply to the exclusion of any other terms that the Customer seeks to impose or incorporate, or which are implied by law, trade custom, practice or course of dealing.

17.6. No Third-Party beneficiaries

Nothing in the Agreement is intended to create any rights for any third party, nor shall the Agreement be construed as benefiting any third party.

17.7. Survival

Any provision of this Agreement that expressly or by implication is intended to come into or continue in force on or after termination or expiry of this Agreement (such as but not being limited to payments, warranties, indemnifications and confidentiality) shall remain in full force and effect. Termination or expiry of this Agreement shall not affect any rights, remedies, obligations or liabilities of the Parties that have accrued up to the date of such termination or expiry, including the right to claim damages in respect of any breach of the Agreement, which existed at or before the date of such termination or expiry, subject to the final paragraph of Section 10.

17.8. Severability

If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement shall not be affected thereby. Subject to the foregoing, each provision of this Agreement shall be valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law. If any court or arbitrator deems any section of this Agreement to be invalid or unenforceable then the court or arbitrator shall rewrite that section to preserve the intent of the Parties if possible, and if not, sever that section from this Agreement.

17.9. Announcements

Neither Party may use the name of the other Party in any publicity or advertising nor issue any press release or otherwise disclose the existence of this Agreement, or its terms and conditions, without the prior written consent of the other Party.

17.10. Non-Solicitation

During the term of the Agreement and for one (1) year thereafter, absent the other Party's written approval, a Party shall not solicit or hire the other Party's personnel. This shall not apply to bona fide advertisements for jobs that are made generally available to the public and open to all applicants.

In case of a breach of this non-solicitation Section, the Party in breach shall be required to pay the other Party an amount in damages representing eighteen (18) months' salary of the employee concerned before tax and social security and similar deductions, in addition to any actual damages incurred.

17.11. No partnership or agency

The Parties are independent contractors. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, nothing in this Agreement is intended to, or shall be deemed to, establish any partnership or joint venture between the Parties, or constitute any Party as the agent or representative of the other Party. Neither Party nor its employees or other representatives are authorized to bind the other Party or make any representations or any commitment on the other Party's behalf unless previously authorized by such Party in writing.

17.12. Rights and remedies

Except as expressly provided in the Agreement, the rights and remedies provided under the Agreement are in addition to, and not exclusive of, any rights or remedies provided by applicable law. All disputes arising between the Parties that cannot be settled by informal negotiations, may only be resolved by binding and non-appealable, confidential arbitration before the American Arbitration Association, using the AAA Commercial Arbitration Rules with Expedited Procedures. Only three (3) depositions (or one (1) Fed.R.Civ.P Rule 30(b)(6) deposition, which may constitute multiple witnesses) may be taken by each side (with all related entities of a Party being considered collectively as one side or Party), with a limited document production and only five (5) narrow interrogatories. A three (3) member arbitration panel shall be employed. The site of the arbitration hearing shall be in Delaware, USA. The final, confidential arbitration decision can be enforceable in any court of competent jurisdiction. The Customer shall promptly reimburse all of Supplier's attorney fees and costs should it succeed in enforcing any provision of this Agreement against the Customer
